

Live with Intentionality

Caroline D. Bower and Lynne Ellis

We now live with intentionality about most things in our lives—our jobs, our children, our fitness, our technology. Why not spiritually and missionally? At a time when the world is connected, interdependent, global, urban and conversing—and peoples from around the world live within blocks of each other—finishing what Christ left us to do has never been more possible. Many have asked, “What will it take to finish the job?” We would like to pose, “Who will it take?”

I (Caroline) had a strong sense that I was called to the missi- With of lit chile In re not i not i arra form to Fi chu: init. relat ever age: W that:

ask. tages c.). was e been oute cal om cal . We sion visit y ial ob yday is as nd respons more quickly to those with roots in the non-Western world.

Chapter 129 737

Caroline D. Bower pioneers, mobilizes, trains and mentors leaders using insights that come from over 40 years of ministry experience in dozens of countries.

Lynne Ellis has been working in a local church context for over 20 years with a focus on mobilizing people and other churches for the least and the lost around the globe. She works as a missions pastor, team trainer and life-coach, helping connect profession and passion with God’s movements.

Congratulations, you are up to week 14 with your discipleship learning community. This article is a great read, but licensing restrictions prevent us from posting it in its entirety. If you contact your DLC leaders, they will send you a pdf.

Thank you!

—The DLC Team